New Delhi, the 29th June 1968

- G.S.R 1281.—In exercise of the powers conferred by the proviso to article 300 of the Constitution, the President hereby makes the following rules to regulate the method of recruitment to the post of Technical Officer (Filmstrip), Central Health Education Bureau in the Directorate General of Health Services namely:—
- 1. Short title and commencement.—(1) These rules may be called the Central Health Education Bureau (Technical Officer, Filmstrip) Recruitment Rules, 1968.
- (2) They shall come into force on the date of their publication in the Official Gazette.
- 2. Application.—These rules shall apply for recruitment to the post as specified in column 1 of the Schedule annexed hereto.
- 3. Number, classification and scale of pay.—The number of post, its classification and the scale of pay attached thereto shall be as specified in columns 2 to 4 of the said Schedule.
- 4. Method of recruitment, age limit and other qualifications.—The method of recruitment, age limit, qualifications and other matters relating to the said post-shall be as specified in columns 5 to 13 of the Schedule aforesaid.

Provided that the upper age limit prescribed for direct recruitment may be relaxed in the case of Schedule Castes, Schedule Tribes and other special categories of persons in accordance with the general orders of the Central Government issued from time to time.

- 5. Disqualifications.—(i) No person, who has more than one wife living or who, having a spouse living, marries in any case in which such marriage is void by reason of its taking place during the life time of such spouse, shall be eligible for appointment to the post specified in the said Schedule, and
- (ii) no woman, whose marriage is void by reason of the husband having a wife living at the time of such marriage, or who has married a person, who has a wife living at the time of such marriage, shall be eligible for appointment to the post specified in the said Schedule:

Provided that the Central Government may, if satisfied that there are special grounds for so ordering, exempt any person from the operation of this rule.

6. Power to relax.—Where the Central Government is of opinion that it is necessary or expedient to do so, it may by order, for reasons to be recorded in writing, and in consultation with the Union Public Service Commission, relax any of the provisions of these rules with respect to any class or category of persons or posts.

MINISTRY OF TRANSPORT AND SHIPPING

MERCHANT SHIPPING

New Delhi, the 3rd July 1968

- G.S.R. 1283.—In exercise of the powers conferred by setcion 296 read with subsection (2) of section 458 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1958 (44 of 1958), and in supersession of the Indian Merchant Shipping (Direction-Finders) Rules, 1956, the Central Government hereby makes the following rules, namely:—
- 1. Short title, application and commencement—(1) These rules may be called the Merchant Shipping (Radio Direction Finders) Rules, 1968.
  - (2) They shall apply to-
    - (a) Indian ships of sixteen hundred tons gross or more; and
    - (b) ships other than Indian ships, of sixteen hundred tons gross or more while they are at any port or place in India or within the territorial waters of India.

- 2. Definitions.--in these rules--
- (1) "Act" means the Merchant Shipping Act, 1958 (44 of 1958);
- (2) "existing installation" means—
  - (a) an installation wholly installed on board a ship before the 26th May 1965; and
  - (b) an installation part of which was installed on board a ship before the 26th May 1965 and the rest of which consists either of parts installed in replacement of identical part or parts which comply with the requirements of these rules;
- (3) "interference" means any radiation or any induction which endengers the functioning of a radio navigation service or obstructs or repeatedly interrupts radio service operating in accordance with these rules;
- (4) "new installation" means any installation which is not an existing installation;
- (5) "radio inspector" means a person appointed as such under section 10 of the Act;
  - (6) "Schedule" means a Schedule to these rules;
- (7) In relation to classes of emission—"Class A1" means telegraphy by one-off keying without the use of a modulating audio frequency; "Class A2" means telegraphy by the on-off keying of an amplitude-modulating audio frequency or audio frequencies, or by the on-off keying of the modulated emission;
  - "Class B" means damped waves;
- 3. Provision of radio direction-finders.—Every ship shall be provided with a radio direction-finder complying with the requirements specified in the First Schedule.
- 4. Climatic and durability tests.—(i) The radio direction-finder required to be provided by these rules shall be such that it will be free from mechanical defects, and, shall comply with the following tests, namely—
  - (a) while undergoing the vibration, dry heat and low temperature tests specified in the Second Schedule;
  - (b) when subjected to the damp heat, tests specified in paragraph 3(4) of the said Schedule; and
  - (c) the other tests specified in the said Schedule.
- (2) The radio direction-finder aerial system referred to in the First Schedule shall be such that after undergoing the mould growth tests required by the Second Schedule no mould growth will be present on it.
- 5. Interference with Reception.—(1) At no time when a ship is at sea interference or mechanical noise produced by a radio direction-finder required by these rules or by other equipment in the ship shall be of such intensity as to prevent the efficient determination of radio bearings by means of the radio direction-finder.
- (2) Any ship which is provided with a radio direction-finder not being an existing installation shall also be provided with a communal aerial system for all broadcast receivers in respect of which it is impracticable to erect efficient and properly installed aerials which—
  - (a) are outside a radius of 15.2 metres from the radio direction-finder aerial, or
  - (b) do not rise above the base of the radio direction-finder; or
  - (c) can be lowered quickly and stowed easily when the radio directionfinder is in use.
- 6. High voltage parts.—(1) All parts and wirings of the equipment specified in these rules in which the direct and alternating voltage (other than radio frequency voltages) combine at any time to give an instantaneous voltage greater than fifty volts shall be protected from accidental access.

- (2) All parts and wirings of an equipment specified in these rules (other than the parts and wiring of a rotating machine) in which the direct and alternating voltages (other than radio frequency voltages) combine at any time to give an instantaneous voltage greater than two hundred and fifty volts shall be isolated automatically from all sources of electrical energy when the means of protection are removed.
- 7. Supply of electrical energy.—There shall be available in every ship while it is at sea and at all reasonable times when it is not port, a supply of electrical energy sufficient for the operation of the radio direction-finder in accordance with these rules, and for testing purposes, and for the charging of any batteries which are a source of electrical energy for the radio direction-finder.
- 8. Charging of batteries.—(1) If batteries are provided as a source of electrical energy for the radio direction-finder, means shall be provided on every ship for the charging of such batteries from the ship's main source of electrical energy. The master of the ship shall cause such batteries to be tested once a day by Voltmeter and once a month by Hydrometer, and shall cause any battery which is found not to be fully charged to be brought up to that condition as soon as possible.
- (2) The master of every ship shall maintain or cause to be maintained a separate record and whenever any batteries providing source of electrical energy for radio direction-finder are charged, or when such batteries are tested daily by a Voltmeter, or when such batteries are tested monthly by a Hydrometer, as required by sub-rule (1), he shall make or cause to be made appropriate entries in the said records in regard to such charging or testing of batteries. The said record shall be placed on board together with records of calibration maintained under rule 13 and shall be made available to the radio inspector for inspection at any reasonable time.
- 9. Installation of radio direction-finder.—(1) The radio-direction-finder shall be installed in such a position that efficient determination of radio bearings by means of the radio direction-finder will not be hindered by extraneous noises.
- (2) (a) The radio direction-finder aerial system referred to in the First Schedule shall be mounted in such a manner that the efficient determination of radio bearings by means of the radio direction-finder is hindered as little as possible by the proximity of aerials, derricks, wire halvards, or other large metal objects.
- (b) Unless the feeder cables connecting the radio direction-finder aerial system with the receiver forming part of the radio direction-finder consist of solid electric screened cable, they shall be protected by metal tubes which are bonded to earth The joints of the feeder cables shall be water-tight.
- 10. Means of communication.—(1) In every ship, an efficient two-way means of calling and voice communication shall be provided between the receiver of the radio direction-finder and the bridge from which the ship is normally navigated.
- (2) In every such ship, an efficient means of signalling shall be provided beteewn the receiver of the radio direction-finder and the ship's standard compass or gyro compass repeater, if any.
- 11. Restriction on use of the radio direction-finder.—The radio direction-finder shall not be used,—
  - (a) for any purpose other than the business of the ship; or
  - (b) for keeping the radio watch required by the rules framed under section 296 of the Act.
- 12. Calibration.—(1) The Master of every ship shall cause the radio direction finder to be calibrated in accordance with this rule as soon as practicable after it has been installed in the ship and whenever any change is made in the position of the radio direction-finder aerial system.
- (2) The radio direction-finder shall be calibrated by two persons, the one being experienced in the taking of radio bearings and the other experienced in the taking of visual bearings. The calibration shall be carried out by taking simultaneous radio and visual bearings of a calibrating transmitter, and such bearings shall be taken at intervals of not greater than 5 degrees throughout 360 degrees on a frequency between 285 Kc/s and 315 Kc/s.

- (3) Calibration tables and curves shall be prepared on the basis of the bearings taken in accordance with sub-rule (2).
- (4) The Master of every ship shall cause the calibration tables and curves prepared in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this rule to be verified by means of check-bearings—
  - (a) at intervals not exceeding twelve months; and
  - (b) whenever any change is made in any structure or fitting on deck which is likely to affect the accuracy of the radio direction-finder.

If such verification shows that the calibration tables or curves are materially inaccurate, the Master of the ship shall cause the radio direction-finder to be recalibrated as soon as practicable in the manner specified in sub-rules (2) and (3).

- 13. Records of calibration and verification.—The Master of every ship shall cause the following records to be kept on board in a place accessible to any person operating the radio direction-finder, and to be available for inspection at any reasonable time by a radio inspector, namely—
  - (a) a list or diagram indicating the condition and position, on the most recent occasion on which the radio direction-finder was calibrated, of—
    - (i) the aerials, and
    - (ii) all moveable structures on board the ship which might affect the accuracy of the radio direction-finder;
  - (b) the calibration tables and curves which were prepared on the most recent occasion on which the radio direction-finder was calibrated;
  - (c) a Certificate of Calibration in the form specified in the Third Schedule, relating to the most recent occasion on which the radio directionfinder was calibrated and signed by the persons making the calibration; and
  - (d) a record, in the form specified in the Fourth Schedule of check-bearings taken for the verification of calibration, the bearings being numbered in the order in which they were taken.
- 14. Wiring, diagram and instructions.—A schematic wiring diagram of the radio direction-finder and a book containing adequate instructions as to the use of the radio direction-finder shall be available at all times on board for use by any person operating or testing the radio direction-finder.
- 15. Fees.—Fees shall be levied under these rules at the rates and for the purposes specified in the Fifth Schedule.
- 16. Penalty.—Any person who commits a breach of these rules shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees and if the breach is a continuing one, with a further fine which may extend to fifty rupees for every day after the first during which the breach continues.

FIRST SCHEDULE

(See rule 3)

- 1. The direction-finder shall consist of a radio receiver, an associated direction-finder aerial system and Goniometer suitable for the determination of both bearing and sense by aural-null method.
- 2. (a) The mechanical parts of the direction-finder aerial system other than ball bearings, hose clips, set screws and other similar small parts shall consist of non-magnetic material.
- (b) In all respects the mechanical and electrical construction and the finish of the equipment shall conform to good standards of engineering practice.
- 3. No vibrators or primary cells shall be employed. The equipment shall operate from the ship's mains and shall not cause any of the supply leads to be carthed.
  - 4. The equipment shall be suitable for use with headphones.

- 5. Technical characteristics of the receiver shall comply with the following:---
  - (a) Frequency Range

- 225 Kc/a to 525 Kc/s

(b) Types of reception

—A1 and A2.

(c) Sensitivity (for loop aerial system):—

Field strength required for 20 decibel Signal/Noise ratio:-

P reque ncy	Wide band
3	$A_1$	$A_{\mathfrak{b}}$
	(iMcrovolt <sub>8</sub> per metre)	30% mod at 400 Cycles (Microvolts per metre)
500 Kc/8	10	45
350 Kc/8	12	55
260 Kc/8	15	67

(d) Selectionity

Attennation	Band widt	h
-	Wide	Narrow
-6 decibers at frequencies plus or minus	2.5 Kc/s	1.5 Kc/s
-20 decibels at frequencies plus or minus	4.5 Kc/8	3.5 Kc/8
-40 decibels at frequencies plus or minus	7.5 Kc/s	6.0 Kc/s
-60 decibels at frequencies plus or minus	10.0 Kc/$	9.0 Kc/8

- (e) The protection against second channel or image frequency shall be over 90 decibels at 500 Kc/s.
- (f) The protection against I.F. break-through shall be over 90 decibels at 500 Kc/s.
- (g) The overall gain of the receiver shall be such that the first circuit noise may be amplified to load the headphones output to one milliwatt on "wide" band-width in both A<sub>1</sub> and A<sub>2</sub> positions of reception.
- 6. The receiver shall not produce a field exceeding 0.1 microvolt per metre at a distance of one nautical mile from the receiver.
- 7. Fluctuations of plus or minus 10 per cent in the supply voltages shall not produce perceptible change in output.
- 8. (a) After the receiver has been switched on for 5 minutes, the tune frequency shall not change by more than one part in one thousand in any further period of 5 minutes.
- (b) a change of 5 per cent in any one of the supply voltages to the receiver or to a power unit associated therewith shall not cause the tune frequency to change by more than three parts in ten thousand.

- (c) a change of ambient temperature of 4 degrees centigrade within the range of Zero degree centigrade to 50 degree centigrade applied after the receiver has been switched on for one hour shall not cause the tune frequency to change by more than one part in one thousand.
  - 9. The tuning scale shall be calibrated directly in frequency.
- 10. The Goniometer shall be provided with a circular bearing indicator scale with marking at each one degree interval. Degree markings shall be distinctive at each fifth degree marking and more distinctive at each tenth degree marking with numerical indication.
- 11. After due allowance has been made for any site errors the bearing as indicated by the scale of the Goniometer shall be within one degree of the correct bearing. This requirement shall be met at all frequencies in the range of frequencies specified in paragraph 5 of this Schedule and throughout the 360 degrees of azimuth regardless of the previous setting of the bearing indicator.
- 12. Changes in the setting of the bearing indicator from the position or positions of minimum output of 5 degrees and 90 degrees in either direction shall cause the audio-frequency output to increase by not less than 18 decibels and not less than 35 decibels respectively.

SECOND SCHEDULE

[See rule 4(1)]

Climatic and Durability Tests

- 1. In this Schedule:-
  - (a) references to Class X equipment shall be construed as references to the direction-finder aerial system;
  - (b) references to Class B equipment shall be construed as references to each part of the direction-finder other than the direction-finder aerial system.
- 2. (1) Class X equipment shall be subjected to all the tests given in the following Table, and Class B equipment shall be subjected to the test named opposite the letter B thereof:

Provided that Class X equipment shall not be subjected to the Immersion test if it is subjected to the Rain test at a static pressure of not less than 3.164 or more than 3.867 kg. per square centimetre.

- (2) All tests shall be conducted in the order in which they appear in the Table.
- (3) At any time when the equipment is required by paragraph 3 below to be kept working for the purposes of such tests; power shall be supplied thereto at the voltage at which such equipment is intended to be operated.
- 3. The tests referred to in paragraph 2 above, shall be conducted in the manner specified below:—
- (a) Vibration Test.—The equipment, complete with its chasis covers and shock absorbers (if any) shall in its normal operating position be clamped to a vibration Table. The Table shall be vibrated at all frequencies between 0 and 12½ cycles per second at an amplitude of plus or minus 0.16 cm. during which period the equipment shall be kept working continuously. The Table shall be so vibrated for three periods each of which shall be of eight minutes duration. Throughout each such period, the direction of the vibrations shall be perpendicular to the direction of the vibration during the other two periods.
- (b) Bump Test.—The equipment shall be subjected to not less than 500 bumps at a constant rate of between one and four bumps per second with a free drop of at least 2.5 cm.
- (c) Dry Heat Test.—(i) Class X equipments shall be placed in a chamber which is maintained for a period of ten hours at a constant temperature of 70°—1°C during which period the equipment shall not be worked or tested. The said chamber shall then be cooled to a constant temperature of 55°+1.C and the equipment shall be kept working continuously at that temperature for a period of two hours.
- (ii) Class B equipment shall be placed in a chamber which is maintained for a period of two hours at a constant temperature of  $55^{\circ}+1^{\circ}\text{C}$  during wrich period the equipment shall be kept working continuously.
- (d) Damp Heat Test.—(1) The equipment shall be prepared for the damp heat test in the following manner:—
  - (1) The equipment shall be placed in a chamber which within a period not exceeding two hours shall be heated from room temperature to 40°C., and shall be brought to a relative humidity of not less than 95 per cent.
  - (ii) The chamber shall be kept at a temperature of 40°+1°C for a period of 12 hours, and at a relative humidity of not less than 95 per cent.
  - (iii) At the beginning of the last 60 minutes of such period, all accessible surfaces and components shall be wiped dry and any fans or drying lamps provided in the equipment shall be switched on

After the fans or drying lamps have been in operation for 30 minutes and while the temperature of the chamber is still 40°C subject to the aforesaid tolerance, the equipment shall be tested.

- (2) After the equipment has been tested, the chamber shall be prepared for the low temperature test, by allowing the temperature to fall below 25°C, the equipment remaining in the chamber.
- (e) Low Temperature Test.—(1) Class X equipment shall be exposed to a temperature of minus  $25^{\circ}+1^{\circ}$ C at normal atmospheric pressure for a period of not less than twelve hours.
- (2) Class B equipment shall be exposed to a temperature of minus 15°+1°C at normal atmospheric pressure for a period of not less than twelve hours.
- (1) Rain Test.—(1) The equipment shall be placed in a chamber fitted with eight shower heads, the discharge end of each of which shall consist of a flat, non-rustable metal plate, 0.16 cm. thick, having thirty-six holes each of 0.1 cm-diameter evenly spaced in concentric circles in the following manner:—
  - 16. holes on the periphery of a circle of 5.1 cm. diameter.
  - 8 holes on the periphery of a circle of 3.8 cm. diameter
  - 8 holes on the periphery of a circle of 2.5 cm. diameter
  - 4 holes on the periphery of a circle of 1.3 cm. diameter

(2) The shower heads shall be kept at a distance of not less than 50 cm. and not more than 80 cm. from the equipment in such manner that spray from four of such shower heads is directed downwards at an angle of 45° at each of the four uppermost corners of the equipment, and the spray from the other four shower heads is directed horizontally at the centre of each area of the four sides of the equipment. Fresh water at room temperature and at static pressure in accordance with the following Table shall be sprayed on the equipment from the shower heads for a period of one hour with the equipment in a position in which it is normally operated.—

Magnesium Chloride	٠.	0.6
Calcium Chloride		0 1
Potassium Chloride		0.07

- (2) The quantity of each salt shall be subject to a tolerance of pius or minus 10 per cent. The spraying apparatus shall be such that the products of corrosion cannot mix with the sea water or solution contained in the spray reservoir. The solution shall be sprayed simultaneously on all the external surfaces of the equipment, for a period of one hour. The equipment shall be kept working continuously for the last 30 minutes of the period. Immediately thereafter, the equipment shall be stored for a period of seven days at a temperature of  $40^{\circ}+1^{\circ}\text{C}$  at a relative humidity of not less than 60 per cent and not more than 80 per cent. Such spraying and storing shall be carried out on four separate occasions
- (i) Corrosion Test (Acid Fumes).—If the arrangements in the equipment are such that the battery can be charged without being removed from the equipment the battery shall be charged continuously for a period of twenty-four hours at the maximum rate appropriate to it. Otherwise, before the test is carried out, the battery shall be fully charged and then fitted into the equipment, which shall immediately thereafter be stored for a period of four weeks at a temperature  $40^{\circ}+1^{\circ}\text{C}$  at a relative humidity of not less than 60 per cent and not more than 80 per cent

(j) Mould Growth Test.—The equipment shall be inocculated by spraying with an aqueous suspesion of mould spores containing all the cultures named in Column A or all the cultures named in Column B of the following Table:—

[No. 30-MD(8)/67]

- G.S.R. 1284.—In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) read with clauses (a), (i), (k), (m) and (p) of sub-section (2) of section 288 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1958 (44 of 1958), and in supersession of the Indian Merchant Shipping (Musters) Rules 1956, the Central Government hereby makes the following rules, the same having been previously published as required by the said section, namely:—
- 1. Short title, application and commencement.—(1) These rules may be called the Merchant Shipping (Musters) Rules, 1968.
  - (2) They shall apply to-
    - (a) all seagoing Indian ships, wherever they may be;
    - (b) other ships while they are within any port in India:
    - Provided that these rules shall not apply to a ship by reason of her being within a port in India, if she would not have been in any such port but for stress of weather or any other circumstance which neither the master nor the owner nor the charter (if any) of the ship could have prevented or forestalled.
  - (3) They shall come into force at once.
  - 2. Definitions.-In these rules-
    - (a) "Act" means the Merchant Shipping Act, 1958 (44 of 1958);
    - (b) "muster" includes a boat-drill and a fire-drill;
    - (c) "official log book" means the official log book to be kept under section 212 of the Act.

- 3. Classification of Ships.—For the purposes of these rules, ships shall be arranged in the following classes, namely:—
  - Class I—Passenger ships (other than those falling under Classes II, III and: IV) engaged on international voyages.
  - Class II—Passenger ships (other than those falling under class IV) engaged on short international voyages.
  - Class III—Unberthed passenger ships (other than ships of Class IV) engaged on international voyages.
  - Class IV—Unberthed passenger ships engaged on short international voyages.
  - Class V-Unberthed passenger ships engaged on coastal voyages.
  - Class VI—Cargo Ships (other than those falling under Class VII).
  - Class VII-Cargo Ships engaged on coastal voyages-
  - Class VIII-Ships not falling under Classes I to VII.
- 4 Muster List.—(1) The master of every ship of classes I to VII shall, before the ship proceeds on a voyage, prepare a muster list showing in respect of each member of the crew the special duties which are allotted to him and the stations to which he shall go in the event of an emergency, including duties and stations applicable for extinguishing fire:

Provided that in cases in which an agreement with the crew is required to be entered into in accordance with the provisions of section 100 of the Act, the muster list shall be prepared after the execution of such agreement.

- (2) The muster list shall assign duties to the different members of the crew in connection with,—
  - (a) the closing of the watertight doors, sidescuttles, valves and closing mechanisms of scuppers, ash-shoots and fire doors;
  - (b) the equipping of the lifeboats, portable radio apparatus for survival craft and other life-saving appliances;
  - (c) the launching of the lifeboats and the general preparation of the other life-saving-appliances;
  - (d) the muster of the passenger, if any; and
  - (e) the extinction of fire.
- (3) The muster list shall assign to the members of the stewards' department of passenger ships, their duties in relation to the passengers at the time of an emergency. These duties shall include,—
  - (a) warning the passengers;
  - (b) seeing that the passengers are suitably clad and have put on their lifejackets in the proper manner;
  - (c) assembling the passengers at muster stations;
  - (d) keeping order in the passages and on the stairways and generally controlling the movement of passengers; and
  - (e) ensuring that a supply of blankets is taken to the life-boats.
- (4) The duty of seeing that the life-boats and other life saving appliances are at all times ready for use and that the equipments in the boats are complete, shall be assigned by the muster list to one or more officers.
- (5) The muster list shall specify definite signals for calling all the crew to their boats, liferafts and fire stations in an emergency, and for indicating when the ship is to be abandoned. Such signal shall be made on the whistle or siren, and in the case of ships of Classes I and INI and of ships of Class VI of 45.7 metres and over in length, they shall be supplemented by other signals which shall be electrically operated from the bridge and other suitable places.

- (6) A muster list shall be dated and signed by the master and, if after it has been prepared any change in the crew takes place which necessitates any alteration in the muster list, the master shall either revise the existing list or prepare a new list and affix thercon his signature and the date.
- (7) Copies of the up-to-date (or in the case of a revised list, the latest) list shall, before the ship proceeds to sea, be posted up in several parts of the ship and, in particular, in the crew's quarters and shall be kept so posted while the ship is at sea.
- 5. Emergency signal for passengers.—(1) Muster stations for all passengers shall be appointed in case of emergency and the position of those stations and the meaning of all signals affecting passengers, with precise instructions as to what they should do in an emergency, shall be clearly stated in Hindi, English or such other languages as are appropriate, on cards posted up in their cabins, in spaces used by unberthed passengers and in conspicuous places in other passenger quarters.
- (2). The emergency signal for summoning passengers to the muster stations shall be a succession of seven or more short blasts followed by one long blast on the whistle or siren. Such signal shall, in the case of ships of Classes I and III, be supplemented by other signals electrically-operated from the bridge and other suitable places which shall be audible throughout the ship.
- 6. Wearing of Life-jacket.—Printed illustrations showing the correct method of putting on a life jacket, step by step, and having detailed explanations in Hindi, English or other appropriate languages, shall be pasted on cards and exhibited in conspicuous places in each passenger accommodation.
- 7. Training of crew and passengers and examination of equipment.—(1) It shall be the duty of the master to arrange for the holding of musters and for the examination of equipment to the extent and in the manner required by this rule.
- (2) In ships of Classes I to IV, musters of crew shall be held weekly when practicable and, in addition, in ships of Classes I and III—
  - (a) a muster of the crew shall be held before the ship leaves her final port of departure in India; and
  - (b) a muster of the passengers shall be held within twenty-four hours after leaving port.
- (3) In ships of Class V, a muster of the crew shall take place at intervals of not more than seven days, when practicable, to ensure that the members of the crew understand and are drilled in the duties assigned to them in the event of an emergency.
- (4) In ships of Classes VI and VII, musters of the crew shall take place at intervals of not more than fourteen days, and, in the case of ships of Class VI, it shall in addition take place within twenty-four hours of the ship leaving port, if, at that port, the entire crew have been engaged or if more than 25 per cent of the crew have been replaced.
- (5) In ships of Class VIII, the master shall take steps to ensure that the members of the crew understand the uses of the life-saving and fire appliances carried on board and know where they are kept.
- (6) Whenever a muster is held on ships of Class VI, the equipment of the boats shall be examined with a view to ensuring that it is complete.
- (7) Different groups of boats shall be used in turn at successive beat drills and the master shall ensure that every life-boat is swung out and, if practicable and reasonable, lowered at least once every four months. The musters and inspections shall be so arranged—
  - (a) that the crew thoroughly understand and are practised in the duties they have to perform, including instruction in the handling and operation of life-rafts, where these are carried; and
  - (b) that all life saving appliances and fire appliances with the gear appertaining to them are always ready for immediate use.

- 8. Entries in the Official log book.—The master shall record in the official log book.—
  - (a) the date on which the musters are held and the results thereof;
  - (b) where a muster is not held within the periods specified in rule 7, or if only a part-muster is held, the reason for not holding the muster or for holding only the part-muster and the extent of the part-muster held:
  - (c) a report of the examination of the boats' equipment made as required under sub-rule (6) of rule 7; and
  - (d) the occasions when the life-boats were lowered and swung out.
- 9. Penalty.—Whoever commits a breach of any of the provisions of these rules shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees and, if the breach is a continuing one, with further fine which may extend to fifty rupees for every day after the first during which the breach continues.

- G.S.R. 1288.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 5, read with subsection (1) of section 7, of the Employees' Provident Funds Act, 1952 (19 of 1952), the Central Government hereby makes the following Scheme further to amend the Employees' Provident Funds Scheme, 1952, namely:—
- 1. This Scheme may be called the Employees' Provident Funds (Third Amendment) Scheme, 1968.
- 2. In paragraph 68C of the Employees' Provident Funds Scheme, 1952 (hereinafter referred to as the said Scheme),—
  - (i) for sub-paragraphs (3) and (4), the following sub-paragraphs shall be substituted, namely:—
    - "(3) In the event of the member refusing to accept an allotment under the said Scheme, he shall be liable to refund to the Fund, the amount remitted to the State Government or the co-operative society under this paragraph together with interest thereon at a rate not exceeding 61 per cent per annum. The amount so refunded shall be credited to the member's account:
    - Provided that only such portion of the interest as would have been credited to the member's account by way of interest, had he not taken any such advance, shall be credited to his account and the excess shall be credited to the Interest Suspense Account.
  - (4) In the event of the member not having been allotted a tenement or in the event of the cancellation of an allotment made to the member under the said Scheme, the member shall be liable to refund to the Fund, the amount remitted to the State Government or the cooperative society under this paragraph. The amount so refunded shall be credited to the member's account.

- (5) Where a member is required to refund the amount under sub-paragraph (3) or sub-paragraph (4), the Commissioner shall forthwith take steps to recover the amount due from the wages of the member in such number of instalments as he may determine. For the purpose of such recovery, the Commissioner may direct the employer to deduct such instalments from the wages of the member and the amount so deducted shall be remitted by the employer to the Commissioner within such time and in such manner as may be specified in the direction.
- (6) The Commissioner may, if he is satisfied that a member genuinely requires a further advance towards the cost of construction, grant to the member such advance not exceeding his six months' basic wages and dearness allowance or his own total contributions with interest thereon standing to his credit in the Fund, whichever is less.";
- (ii) Sub-paragraph (5) shall be re-numbered as sub-paragraph (7) thereof.
- 3. In paragraph 68G of the said Scheme for sub-paragraphs (3) and (4), the following sub-paragraphs shall be substituted, namely:—
  - "(3) In the event of the member refusing to acquire the site or purchase or construct a house under the said Scheme, he shall be liable to refund to the Fund, the amount remitted to him or to the individuals, co-operative societies, institutions, trusts, local bodies, Housing Finance Corporations or State Governments, as the case may be, under this paragraph, together with interest thereon at a rate not exceeding 6% per cent per annum. The amount so refunded shall be credited to the member's account:
  - Provided that only such portion of the interest as would have been credited to the member's account by way of interest, had he not taken any such advance, shall be credited to his account and the excess shall be credited to the Interest Suspense Account.
  - (4) In the event of the member not being able to acquire the site or purchase or construct a house, or in the event of the cancellation of an allotment made to a member under the said Scheme, the member shall be liable to refund to the Fund, the amount remitted to him or to the individuals, co-operative societies, institutions, trusts, local bodies, Housing Finance Corporations or the State Governments, as the case may be, under this paragraph. The amount so refunded shall be credited to the member's account.
  - (5) Where a member is required to refund the amount under sub-paragraph (3) or sub-paragraph (4), the Commissioner shall forthwith take steps to recover the amount due from the wages of the member in such number of instalments as he may determine. For the purpose of such recovery, the Commissioner may direct the employer to deduct such instalments from the wages of the member and the amount so deducted shall be remitted by the employer to the Commissioner within such time and in such manner as may be specified in the direction
  - (6) The Commissioner may, if he is satisfied that a member genuinely requires a further advance towards the acquisition of the site or purchase or contruction of a house under the said Scheme, grant to the member such advance of a sum not exceeding his six months' basic wages and dearness allowance or his own total contributions with interest thereon standing to his credit in the Fund, whichever is less.
  - (7) In this paragraph, the expression "co-operative society" means the society registered or deemed to be registered under the Co-operative Societies Act, 1912 (2 of 1912), or under any other law for the time being in force in any State relating to co-operative societies."
